A Message from Dave

Crusin' Time

Spring is finally here, time to put all that nasty weather we had over the winter behind us, get the car out and enjoy some shows and cruises. Looks like it will be a great season full of some of our favorite events, along with some new ones. We have been getting several listings sent to us that we have not published in the past so it looks like we'll have plenty of choices on where to spend our weekends this year.

Judging from the amount of display ads for shows in this issue, the clubs and promoters are realizing that running an ad with us along with their free listing is one of the most cost effective ways to get the message out. Putting the ad in front of our 15,000 readers is sure easier than printing and distributing all those flyers. And your big bonus is that the ad can be viewed online as well. We get around 100,000 visits to our site each year, that's 8000 each month. Also if you advertise with us, we'll send a bundle of magazines out to you all year for you club members to read.

In this issue, you'll be able to find out about the expanded offering from the Ocean City Cruise. The cruise to US 13 Drags and two day events at the track will certainly add to the excitement at the beach this year. The big bonus is you can do all the burn outs you want at the track without getting any tickets. I'm looking forward to a safe, fun filled weekend at the ocean.

Please remember, for the Cruise Guide to be successful, we need your contributions. Our regular columns, Road Trip, Man Caves, and Reader's Rides need your input. Got a good story to tell? Just contact me and we'll make it happen. We never publish any information that could be used to inspire theft or other unwanted attention. Just share your pride and joy with other rodders in our pages. And more importantly, make sure you send your show listings in on time also, as our main function is to provide accurate information on car events in our area. And the other part of keeping this publication coming is to patronize the advertisers who pay me to keep putting your FREE copy in your hands each issue. Tell them you saw it in the Cruise Guide!

Warm thoughts, and Happy Cruising, -Dave

On March 3, 2018, Senator Wayne Norman of Harford and Cecil Counties passed on, joining many other cruisers on the heavenly roads.

Wayne was like any other guy; a family man, a lawyer by trade, a guy who loved trains and the Western MD Railway, and a car guy. He was very approachable and liked sharing the car hobby with all of us. As Rick Ladd told me, "Wayne never acted like a politician, he was just one of us. He was a fan of the Perryville Outlets Cruise that I had a few years back".

Wayne was a member of the MG's of Baltimore since 1989. I spoke to the President of the club, Mr. Richard Liddick, who told me that with Wayne's knowledge of the law, he was able to help the club become 'Incorporated' in 1991. Wayne then became their 'Resident Agent with the State of Maryland'.

Wayne loved the British classic cars and his stable was well represented with Land Rovers, Jaguars and MG's. He truly enjoyed taking his MG convertible to Road Rallies and on trips to Watkins Glen, NY, and Latrobe, PA to tour the Latrobe Brewing Company that made Rolling Rock Beer. After that tour, he decided to name his MG 'Rolling Rock' because the colors were so similar. Mr. Liddick said Wayne had very little time to tend to his cars, so they frequently broke down.

He was also a member, and encouraged every person in the car community to become a member, of the SEMA Action Network (semaSAN.com) that works to defend our hobby nationally on vehicle related legislation and regulations. Wayne was honored with the SEMA APPRECIATION AWARD in July, 2016.

While serving Maryland in the House of Delegates, Wayne was a member of the Motor Vehicle and Transportation Sub-Committee from 2008 - 2015. He pushed his fellow law makers to write and pass better auto tag/registration laws. He wanted to make sure the vehicles were classified and tagged correctly, whether Antique/Historic or Street Rod. He was also instrumental in helping push through the "one time" or "50 year" tag law. This also eliminated the necessity for a front tag. Bill Bradley, a close friend of Wayne's told me Wayne always said "If you complain about you're tags, you're probably illegal". Wayne tried to obtain the ability for all of us to drive our cars for "occasional use", which didn't go over well with non-enthusiasts.

R.I.P. Wayne Norman (1955-2018)

Written by Anita M. Hill

Dave Bielecki stated that "when I started the Car Show & Cruise Guide magazine, Wayne stepped right up and said he had my back and that of the hobby. Even though he was busy in Annapolis, he made time to come to my All Clubs Breakfast and share news and legislative updates with all our car guys and gals".

After Wayne was elected to the Maryland Senate in 2014, Mr. Bielecki stated that "when a group of us got together and formed the 'Custom & Classic Car Educational Foundation', Wayne stepped up at the very beginning and drew up the paperwork to make sure we were a 501c3 non-profit organization because he cared so much for the hobby".

I asked Mr. Bielecki what he would miss most about Wayne and he said "his happy-go-lucky demeanor". Everyone I talked to for this article said they would miss his smile and sense of humor.

Senator Norman was appropriately taken for his final ride in Mr. Jerry Scarborough's 1949 Ford F-5 Flatbed. A very fitting "Last Ride" for our friend Wayne. Thank you, Jerry.

In closing, as Mr. Bielecki said, "his presence will sorely be missed and we will probably never have anyone else do so much to represent the car hobby in Annapolis".

Wayne had a great sense of humor; here he's posing with a cut-out of Queen Elizabeth.

Wayne just loved "Rolling Rock", his MG.

Senator Norman was appropriately taken for his final resting place in Mr. Jerry Scarborough's 1949 Ford F-5 Flatbed. A very fitting "Last Ride" for our friend Wayne.

Road Trippin' with The Street Survivors

The Street Survivors of Maryland have not let this cold winter get in our way of cruising, even if it's in our daily cruisers. While our classics are nestled in the garage or under a tarp we have been busy. We took a trip up to Posies Rod and Custom Shop in Hummelstown, PA for their open house, always nice to see what they have going on. We left there and went to the AACA Museum in Hershey, PA for a look at all the automobile exhibits. Took a short trip over to Chocolate World for some treats and the infamous chocolate factory ride. Always have to please the shoppers so we had to stop at the Outlets for some shopping. We ended the day with dinner at the Old Country Buffet. A great day as always!

Cuba's Classic Cars

This photo is not a low budget Power Tour, it's rush hour in Cuba. Cuba is literally a rolling car museum. Everywhere you look is 40s and 50s American iron, the result of a four-decade-long grudge the country's late leader, Fidel Castro, held against the United States.

It's hard to believe this imprisoned island floats only 90 miles away from Key West, Florida, where some surrounding territories are vacation paradises.

In 1959, Castro placed a ban on foreign vehicle imports, making it nearly impossible to buy a brand-new, foreign made vehicle. It also made it difficult to buy just about anything else, including new parts and fuel for the old-school American cars Cuba is known for.

Cuba was, of course, also the central stage for one of history's darkest hours, in 1962, when JFK learned that Castro's pals the Soviets were building missile bases there, the kind that have a nuke on top that could flatten any city in about 5 minutes. In addition to removing them, one of the agreements with Cuba was that the U.S. would never invade Cuba and make it the 51st State. So there it stayed, frozen in time. Citizens were not able to buy and sell cars without the (Commie) government's approval if they were built after the revolution, which accounts for the spectacular array of post-war vintage American metal. Most people just kept what they had, and just keep on fixin' the thing.

Many of these vehicles a majority of American car lovers would spend thousands of dollars on—but they are used as Cubans' everyday transportation. Many of the owners of these cars make their own parts, and love them as much as we do.

Changes two years ago allowed Cuban citizens to freely buy new and used cars for the very first time since the island country converted to communism in 1959 (how nice of them).

It's part of a push by the country's president, Raul Castro, to increase freedom for average citizens. Raul took over for his ailing brother, Fidel, in 2008 who has since died. (A moment of silence please, for the people he's killed).

Some imported vehicles may include a 100-percent tax, meant to fund Cuba's public transport system, according to the Communist Party's newspaper, Granma. No, I'm not kidding, Granma.

The proposed changes put a greater emphasis on private initiative, which had been largely stifled under Cuba's Soviet-style system, and less government control over the sale and purchase of personal property such as homes and cars.

Maybe Raul Castro and Cuba should rethink socialism, and finally ease into the ideas of capitalism, for the benefit of the country his brother "liberated" 54 years ago.

China's doin' it, the Ruskies are doin' it. Even the most recent attempt to "transform" the U.S. to where the government runs and controls everything didn't work, either.

Maybe next, Cuba will allow Bondo, paint, chrome plating materials and equipment in duty-free. The cars would certainly turn out better. Some look like they were painted with a broom. There is already a cottage industry there rebuilding generators, starters, distributors, etc and shops reconditioning cranks, camshafts, transmission & rear axle parts.

It's not likely to be a big boom anytime soon of Yanks headed there looking for something to flip at a Barrett Jackson auction. After all, they rust just as bad as they do here, being close to the sea, and they've been driving them for sixty years. But it's nice to see 'ole Raul coming around. I guess Vladimir's ok with it, and Fidel's not around anymore to have you killed if you disagree.

Remembering Adam Kowalewski

The Custom & Classic Car Educational Foundation received a donation recently in Adam Kowalewski's name from his friend Reg Dixon. Adam was involved in a car accident last year and passed away. He was another friend of the hobby taken from us much too early.

The young man was born with motor oil in his blood. If it had a motor, Adam was playing with it. He enjoyed his 4 wheeler; antique tractors, Camaro race car, and his truck. He was a Certified Small Engine Master Tech, but loved anything with an engine.

He was always at the ready to help out, including setting up and cleaning up at the Cooptown Car Show since it began. He is missed by his Family and Friends, and this hobby. Rest in Peace Adam. -Dave

R.I.P.
Ronald Fouse

The car community, and this writer, have lost a dear friend. Ronald Fouse passed on January 28, 2018. Ron was a member of the Freestate Corvette Club and he drove his 1987 Corvette everywhere. From Bowling Green, KY to Carlisle, PA, he put 204,000 miles on his car just going to shows; which his wife was grateful for! He was known to many of us as "ADA-DAD", which was his car tag and his business. When show awards were given out, his favorite line was "same old crowd". As a member of that "same old crowd" and the CS & CG family, we send our heartfelt condolences to Ron's family and friends. Cruise on in heaven dear friend!

Back in the Day...

This is one in a series of vintage photos of drag racing action in the sixties and what it was like at Cecil Co. DragOway "Back in the Day"

The Ronnie Sox factory-backed '65 Plymouth Altered-Wheelbase Hilborn-Injected Hemi funny car driven by "Vicious" Vernon Rowley, aka "Mister Speed." Sox built many Mopar winners around this time, and Vernon once drove a Olds-powered beast called the "Pink Satellite" before the Hemi made it's debut, and had a shop near Paul Hoge's Racing Parts and Machine Service in Baynesville, Maryland.

ED ROTH STUDIOS

Bill Gallas has been around cars his whole life, and built a shop at his house where he could work on his cars in retirement. It's full of tools and equipment including a nice lift. Bill has been racing since 1980, and in addition to a '39 Chevy street rod, he has this sinister-looking '78 Pontiac Firebird Formula with a 427 Chevy that he built, running in the 11's.

His garage is full of mementos of his years racing cars and motorcycles. He was also an accomplished off-road Enduro racer back in the 70's, mostly riding a Husqvarna, and he's got the trophies to prove it. One of the coolest things on the wall was a 1959 photo of Bill chatting about a dragster with Big Daddy Don Gartlits. "Big" is wearing the hat, Bill's on the far left.
