Welcome to the Cruise Guide ONLINE UPDATE

A Message from Dave

I hope that our new Online Only Edition is catching on now. We started this so you have a new Cruise Guide to read each & every month. As the print version gets more & more expensive to produce, we find ourselves at a cross roads after 12 years of printing the magazine. What can we do to reduce some costs? This Special online magazine looks to be the best answer folks.

Since I pay per page, and per 1,000 copies I get printed, when the printer and post office increase my costs, I need to find ways to keep things going. So now we will need to increase ad rates and subscription costs just to stay even. I think my advertisers can only stand a small increase from me, so to reduce printing costs we will now put more of the photo spreads online along with some of your favorite features just online.

The print magazine will still be out six times a year, still offer all the clubs and promoters FREE listings. We will still put all the local cruise night listings in the magazine during the season, and do our best to include as many show photos as we can. Our growth will now come from the online versions, so please remember to come back every month to see what's new.

Happy Cruising,
Dave

For what it's worth...

By J.D. Kurzmann

Last month I presented Chrysler's, 1960's and 70's Dodge division, performance group, "The Scat Pack". This month I will expand on the other performance division of Chrysler, (which has gone the way of the Doe-Doe Bird) Plymouth, who had the "Rapid Transit System". Their slogan was....."Plymouth Makes it". Plymouth's alternative performance sedan to Dodge's "Super Bee", was the Road Runner. It was based on a Belvedere body, but added performance through various performance drive line and suspension options. It was first introduced in 1968 with either a 383 c.i./335 hp version, or the 426 c.i./425 hp Hemi. The GTX was more of a "luxury" edition of the Road Runner, based on a Satellite body style, and came standard with a 440 c.i./375 hp. version and the 426 Hemi as an option.

In 1969 the Road Runner added a convertible to its stable of which only around 2000 were built with the 383 engine and about 10 with the 426 Hemi. Also introduced as a "cousin" to the "A-12" Dodge Super Bee "Six Pack" was the "A-12" 440 "Six Barrel" Road Runner. Both of these models came with fiberglass hoods, Dana 60 rear differentials, and 3 two-barrel carburetors on an aluminum Edelbrock intake manifold, bolted to the 440 c.i.. Commando engine. The horsepower figures were on the low side for insurance purposes, coming in at 390 hp.

In addition to the performance based Road Runner, in 1968, Plymouth also had their legendary Barracuda that could be ordered in a "Formula S" Package. The engine options in 1968 were either a 340 c.i. or 383 c.i. power plant and then in 1969 a 440 c.i. engine was also an option. Horsepower numbers were from 270 in the 340 c.i. engine up to 375 in the 440. In 1968 there were also a limited production number of "Super Stock" versions of both Dodge Divisions Dart and Plymouth's Barracuda which came with a "racing" version of the 426 Hemi. These models were race only and today are either found at the drag strip or in museums.

The year 1970, proved to be the "pinnacle" in performance for many auto manufacturers including Dodge and Plymouth. The Road Runner still had the body lines of its predecessor, with cosmetic changes to the hood, front, and rear ends. The engine options were all still available, including the formidable 383c.i. /335 hp, 440 c.i. Six Barrel/390 hp, and 426 c.i./425 hp Hemi. The GTX still had a standard 440 c.i. with a 426 c.i. Hemi option, but gone was the "Six Barrel", fiberglass hooded drag race, A-12 model. The Road Runner added a vacuum operated "Air Grabber" hood scoop option instead. The "Formula S" Barracuda became known as 'Cuda, and offered the same engines as the Road Runner (including a 340 c.i. version) and had an optional "Shaker" hood added to the 440 Six Barrel and 426 Hemi models. A '71 Hemi Cuda Convertible recently brought a record 3 and a half million dollars at auction.

Let us not forget Plymouth's introduction of the Duster in 1970. This was basically a "sporty" version of the Valiant. The Duster came standard with the 225 c.i. slant six cylinder, but had the optional 340 c.i./270 hp power plant available too.

This was basically the "performance" line up for Plymouth's "Rapid Transist System" in the late 1960's into 1970. It was truly a performance driven automotive market, as short-lived as it was.

Kip's Tech Tip - by Kip Kurzmann

Bringing the monster back to life

It's that time of year again.....the clocks go ahead an hour, we lose an hour of sleep, the sun seems to stay out a little longer each day, maybe it is getting warmer, and it's time to dust off our cruisers, street rods, and muscle cars. But wait.....did you check the car over before even trying to start it? Will it even start?

Having a check list is always helpful when our minds have not been in "cruising mode" for a few months. When was the last time I checked the battery for a proper charge or whether the tires have the proper pressure?

How about looking over the under carriage to see if any (I hate to say it) leaks have developed over the winter? And while you're down there, clean out the cobwebs that may have been constructed too.

One area people seem to neglect checking is the suspension. They believe that since the car has not been moved, nothing has changed....WRONG!!! Take a "hand full" of wrenches and start going over ALL of the suspension bolts. This is especially important with custom suspensions such as 4-links, 4-bars, Hairpins, ladder bars, and rear sliders. All of these specialty suspensions need attention after they have been sitting for several months..... Once you have taken the time to review all of the necessary areas on your suspension, then check the basic electrical connections to the battery. After all is checked over and cleaned, fire it up and let it run, checking all areas for any fuel or oil leaks.

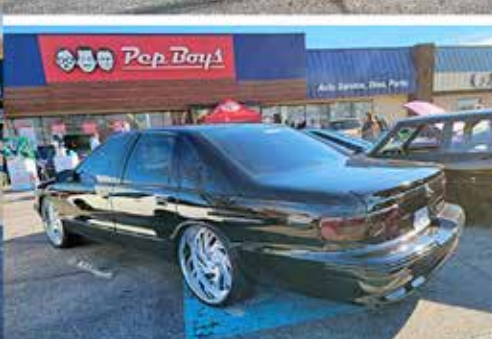

Now you are ready to open the garage door and pull out. May the 2016 cruising season begin!!!

Foundation Update

by Doug Wood

The Cruise Guide is a Sponsor of the Foundation

It's funny, we as hot rodders seem to never be satisfied with the weather! Last winter was pretty mild compared to the beginnings of this winter and we're complaining. All I know is, I for one long for better weather so that we can get out and do what we do!

This will be a transitional year for the Foundation. We are going to try some new and different events around the area. Of course, we depend on you to attend these cruises, car shows and other happenings.

We make arrangements for you to have a place to go and then in return we rely on your nominal donations for the opportunity to park and hang out in some cool places. Dave and I have been meeting with some officials from Bel Air and we're working on some thing that could be pretty big! We are also considering a car show at one of the local large breweries.

We continue to look for volunteers to sit on our Board of Directors and help with these events! It's not easy producing these events with the small crew that we have at present. We hope that you will consider touching base with us and lending a hand!

I don't have much other information to share with you at this time...

And so as always, stay tuned for more news and I'll see you on the return road!

Carlisle Events and Carlisle Auctions Finalize 2022 Plans, Displays and Schedule

Special Anniversaries, Showcases, Cool Rides (New and Classic) Await the Automotive World

With 2021 in the rearview mirror, the team from Carlisle Events is actively planning its 2022 season. Two indoor January events kick off the buying and selling frenzy with Auto Mania (January 14-16) at the Allentown Fairgrounds in Allentown, PA and the Winter Carlisle Auto Expo (January 28-29) at the Carlisle Expo Center in Carlisle, PA. The 2020 event season guaranteed to turn heads and draw thousands to Carlisle; America's Automotive Hometown.

In February, Carlisle Auctions gets the wheeling and dealing up and running with an auction in sunny Florida. Following a record setting 2021 where all-time highs for sell through rates and total sales were reached as over 1,000 cars, trucks, and collectibles crossed the auction block. The first and last auctions of the year happen at the SUN n' FUN Expo Campus in Lakeland, FL. The Lakeland Winter Collector Car Auction is February 25-26, while the Lakeland Fall offering is November 10-11.

In Carlisle, the Spring Carlisle Collector Car Auction (April 21-22) happens in conjunction with Spring Carlisle, while the Fall auction is September 29-30 as part of Fall Carlisle. In each instance, 400+ lots are anticipated with three great ways to bid; in-person, on the phone, and online by way of Proxibid. There's even an all-truck hour and opportunities to bid and buy for various charity causes. Auction details are available at CarlisleAuctions.com or by calling 717-960-6400.

Spring Carlisle presented by eBay Motors (April 20-24) welcomes nearly 100,000 guests with like-minded passions into the Cumberland Valley to buy, sell or trade all things automotive. Spring Carlisle, in most cases, is the first large gathering of its type across the country, so it becomes a destination event for gearheads and collectors. The biggest draw is the automotive flea market where thousands of vendors sell millions of pieces and parts, merchandise, and collectibles. There are even cars for sale by owner within the car corral.

In addition, the midway is packed with some of the top suppliers in the industry and is flanked by the ARMO Hot Products Showcase.

ARMO is the SEMA council whose mission is to preserve and promote the automotive restoration hobby. In doing so at Carlisle, the ARMO team spotlights some of the newest and/or most popular items available for your ride. Finally, Spring Carlisle welcomes Carlisle Events co-owner Bill Miller to the stage on Friday, April 22 for his second bi-annual Bill Miller Auction. For a period of time starting Carlisle mid-morning, Bill, with the help of the Carlisle Auctions staff, will sell off some items from his personal collection. The Bill Miller Auction is free for all on-site guests to attend and all items are sold to the highest bidder with no fees attached.

A few weeks after Spring Carlisle wraps up, the Carlisle Import & Performance Nationals (May 13-14) takes center stage. IPN is one of the most unique events in the country, as it spotlights over 2,000 cars from around the world. From popular American Muscle to obscure Asian and European imports, guests are guaranteed to see something they have never seen before. Along with the rare and unique, there are a few special displays and activities planned. Cruise to Carlisle in mid-May for a 30-year tribute to the Subaru Impreza and a feature of Germany's most popular ride; the BMW. There are also many car clubs who gather, making Carlisle their singular meet-up spot for judged or non-judged car show fun.

Just after Memorial Day, THE Ford show of shows happens; the Carlisle Ford Nationals presented by Meguiars (June 3-5). This event hosts Ford lovers from across the country and more than 3,000 vehicles on the National Parts Depot Showfield. While there is no shortage of cars and people, another element of the fun is the staff from Ford HQ. Top level team members roll in from Michigan to host new product showcases, walk arounds and unveilings. In fact, with some new vehicle car shows canceled in and around the mid-Atlantic region, it's reasonable to expect that many consumers will see for the first time at Carlisle, the newest and hottest rides and products coming onto the market. This may include EV components and vehicles, the latest Bronco and more.

A Message from the Publisher

Thanks to all my Readers, Subscribers, and Club Members

2022 looks like it might bring more challenges like the past two years did. My biggest concern is rising costs. Postage, printing and gas have increased at a large rate this past year. Since I publish this as a favor to the hobby, not getting a regular paycheck is not an issue. But I'm concerned that certain mailing & distribution costs could cause me to reach in my own pocket to keep things going.

My wife would rather I didn't! So, recently a couple of subscribers paid extra to cover postage, and over the past several years many clubs have helped with the expense of sending out bundles of magazines for the club members. I want to thank you all for your help, and when you can, please consider helping out again this year. Here's to a successful car show season, and a healthy one for all my readers.

– Dave

AN AMERICAN FAMILY
 Like many Americans, the Unser family immigrated to this country in search of better opportunities. Arriving from Bern, Switzerland in the 1800s, Louis and Marie settled first in Brazil, Indiana and later in Colorado Springs, Colorado — a move that had major consequences on their sons' later choice of careers.

Dear Friends, Consignors, Buyers and Visitors,

The older you get the faster the clock seems to run...it will be summer before we know it. Now is a perfect time to start the unthawing of your classic and special interest vehicle(s) in preparation for the warmer weather surely on its way.

Now that the dust has settled on the January auctions, all we can say is wow! The numbers achieved by Mecum in Kissimmee and Barrett-Jackson in Scottsdale were nothing short of remarkable. Total sales at Barrett were $195,000,000 and Mecum was $217,000,000. Resto-mods continue to astound those of us who have been in the hobby. Equally as impressive is the SUV market. Bronco's, Scouts, Grand Wagoneer's, Blazers and Suburban's are the hottest they have been. The 1968 Chevrolet Suburban 3-Door at Barrett for $308,000 was an amazing result as was the 1963 and 1967 Corvette Resto-mods, both selling for north of $700,000. The highlight of the Mecum sale was the the first Shelby Mustang R Model built, the Ken Miles 1965 Shelby GT350R that sold for $3,750,000. Seems like the strength of the hobby continues. Lets hope that the economy holds up and the market continues to remain strong.

If you have 1 car or a collection and are looking to thin the herd, please contact me directly. We are selling worldwide and the market is very strong for quality cars priced right. I would love to chat about how we can help with the process.

Please come visit us when you are in the Philadelphia, Carlisle, or Hershey areas, or visit us anytime online at www.classicautomall.com.

All Clubs Breakfast at the Bel Air, MD Moose

The Annual Car Show and Cruise Guide Breakfast was held on Saturday, February 26 at the Forest Hill Moose Lodge. Dave Bielecki, Guide Publisher, welcomed everyone and explained a little about how the publication was doing. His website, www.carcruiseguide.com, has even more info than the magazine. The food was very good and there was plenty of it. For $10 it was the best deal around. The breakfast was attended by about 135 people and $1320 was given to the Moose Lodge for the breakfast to benefit their charities. T-shirts were on sale also. Volunteers that distributed the magazine received Certificates of Appreciation. There were two door prizes: a 50-50 that paid over $230 and a five-gallon bucket full of auto cleaning product donated by Stone Car Auto Product. There was, also a table full of some really nice door prizes. Doug Wood, Custom and Classic Car Educational Foundation representative updated on the activities of the organization and the scholarships given. The Foundation sponsors young people who have a desire to learn the auto restoration rubrics. Presently, mini-scholarship have been given until finances improve. Ron's Rods, Fork, MD. has also been a contributing factor in the education of young men who excel in working with their hands.

Kevin Hornberger, Cecil County State Delegate was in attendance and related some of the legal proposal being presented in our Maryland Legislature. Discussed were the topics of the Maryland Toll Facilities, special tags, and exhaust and emissions laws. He also mentioned that he was able to assist with scholarship.

After the special guest speakers, representatives from about thirty car clubs had a chance to let those in attendance know what their respective clubs were doing in the up and coming season. You will have to go to the website or check the magazine to get all the information.

The Mid-Atlantic Street Rod Association

Step back to the beginning

The History of the Mid-Atlantic Street Rod Association

MASRA consisted of a group of car enthusiasts from as far back as 1972. These rodders were attending the Central Pennsylvania Williams Grove Rod Run in the month of June. Gathering there were clubs from Pa, Md, and NJ. They were Central Penn. Street Rods, Vintage Tin Street Rods, Philly Modifiers, South Jersey Rods and Frederick County Street Rods. The Rod Run was attended by Ken Fenical (Posie), Gil Smith, Bruce Smith, Coochie Downs and Lance Sentmen along with other members of the Clubs attending.

The clubs realized the need to meet and share car show and rod run information. You'd write up your date and information and at this meeting you would share with those that showed up. In 1973 these interested rodders from Md, Pa, De and NJ. gathered again, this time at Sutliff Chevrolet in Harrisburg, Pa. Within a few years, this small group grew to over 30 clubs! They moved to Union Deposit Mall in Harrisburg, PA.

In 1980, MASRA became incorporated under the leadership of then president George Krouse (12-31-80). George continued the presidency until 1982. He stepped down and Joe Troilo was elected in 1983. Gil Smith served as President from 1985 to 1987. In 1988 Joe Troilo returned as President and Gil Smith took the acting Vice President position. The late Joan Radke was now the Secretary. She did a wonderful job until cancer took her from us. We were lucky to have Ellen Bradley to fill her shoes for many years.

MASRA representation grew as Virginia joined in the late 70's. By the early 80' MASRA had a membership of over 80 clubs. From the annual meetings, a leadership group grew consisting of one representative from each of the five states. MASRA also had a SEMA representative that kept it up to speed on legislative issues. MASRA coordinated shows between the five-state region for street rods, vintage cars and muscle cars of all kinds. It was monitoring legislative activity in the five states, partnering with SEMA (Specialty Equipment Market Association) and SEMA action Network (SAN).

The task of these MASRA meetings was to eliminate or manipulate club show dates as to not step on the toes of neighboring clubs. As you can well imagine it was tough because at its prime, there were 80 clubs and about half as many warm weekends. The meetings went long as each club was allowed to stand and promote their show.

During the 80's we had a MASRA Wrap-up car show in September. Each club brought a $50 door prize and food that was put on a long table for all to enjoy. We eventually had to move to Carlisle fairgrounds because we had near 500 cars attend, all street rods I might add.

Eventually, our lists were being out dated as all the shows could be listed on various websites. As we got down to 20 clubs and costs had escalated beyond our means, it was time to terminate MASRA. It was immortalized when the late Dave Bell did a Henri Hi rise that depicted the guys from MASRA in Street Rodder Magazine. I relished the time as President and the good MASRA performed."

Joe and Gil, 2016.

All clubs paid dues which allowed MASRA to function and purchase the annual Streetrodder, Custom Rodder and Lady Rodder of the year plaques and customized jackets that were awarded. In January each year, MASRA confers its "Streetrodder of the year" award to one male and one female from each state, plus awards to those individuals who help promote our sport in special ways during the year. Each "Streetrodder of the year" award recipient receives a customized jacket with name and state appearing on the front and "Streetrodder of the Year" on the back, plus a plaque in their honor. Those clubs that had members that they wished to nominate, for one of the titles, submit their member's names or prepare a write up noting the title for the year.

The entries were sent to Gil Smith, MASRA Treasurer, he would receive the club's nomination sheets, those sheets would be judged and winners for each of those titles from the clubs per state.

SEMA and SAN played an important role in the MASRA organization. SEMA was formed in 1963. SEMA's "mission was practical and straightforward: developed uniform standards for certain products used in motorsports competition; promote the industry as a supplier to consumers involved in constructive activities of recreational and hobbyist value; develop programs to encourage improved business practices among members companies; and hold regular meetings to achieve unity as a business organization " In those days, all of the members were founders of companies that produced speed equipment exclusively ( hence, the organization's title.) (SAN) is a nationwide partnership between vehicle clubs, enthusiasts and member of the specialty auto arts industry who want to protect their hobby. The (SAN) was designed to help stamp out legislative threats to the automotive hobby and pass favorable laws. Gil Smith, treasury of MASRA and member of Vintage Tin Street Rod Club of Maryland is our SAN contact.

Gil wrote the legislation to issue street rod tags to Maryland Hot Rodders that was enacted in April of 1987. He also wrote legislation in 1998 along with Bill Bradley to include custom and modified vehicles in their own tag categories. This legislation was passed by the Md. House of Delegates by a 136 to 2 vote. Unfortunately the bill died in the Senate before a vote could be taken. At the hearing was Steve Mac Donald of SEMA, who used this legislation to craft the now SEMA legislation that has passed in at least 12-14 States and counting.

MASRA will continue to hold its corporation papers in an effort assist the new organization "Custom & Classic Car Educational Foundation" and it's President Doug Wood and the directors. The foundation will now promote all the individual clubs efforts to preserve our hobby for the next generation.

Our rodders will never go away. Through the internet clubs live on! Clubs are setting up their own websites and type a few strokes regarding a club's, show dates, location and contact. Now, our local mid-Atlantic car magazine CAR SHOW & CRUISE GUIDE has agreed to be the future voice of the club and will carry out our mission of publishing individual clubs activities and events.

MASRA members presented Joe and Gil each with a Certificate of Excellence for their years of dedicated service to the local car hobby.

Club Subscription Help Needed!

A Plea from Dave-

Over the years, the Cruise Guide has done our best to get bundles of magazines out to various clubs and organizations. With the rising cost of fuel, It is hard to personally deliver to outlying areas, and postage has gone up recently as well. So I really need some help to cover shipping expenses.

For 2022, I am asking for a donation to partially pay the shipping costs to your club. There are 6 issues a year. For 25 copies each time please send $75; and for 50 copies send $100 for the complete season. If you purchase ads for your events, we will include the subscription in the ad cost. Please send checks to- TLC Services PO Box 353 Forest Hill, Md. 21050 or contact Dave.

Thank you, Dave

This photo series is about interesting vehicles spotted around the country that need a little TLC. The photographers and locations are unknown, so all you can do is cry.

LAWS

An air of cautious optimism rang in the New Year following the close of a tension-filled 2020. Historic difficulties appeared to be making way toward recovery on many fronts. Not surprisingly, a slew of challenges awaited our automotive hobby directly in the coming days—along with a few welcome opportunities. However, a completely unexpected legislative battleground revealed itself as the year progressed.

In the wake of lingering uncertainty, enthusiasts' concern with government overreach grew to an unprecedented level. In short, actions taken by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) caused a viral backlash—awaking a “sleeping giant” in the process. The result forged an epic movement that attracted hundreds of thousands of fresh advocates to our cause. After all, the laws and regulations impacting one's garage likely affect many others. Learn more about the events that unified our hobby at the following link: “PUTTING OUT FIRE... WITH GASOLINE!”

The legislative slate is wiped clean with the arrival of the 2022 sessions. Thank you in advance for your help supporting initiatives introduced in your state. Meanwhile, here's a look back at the SEMA Action Network's (SAN) recent pro-hobby efforts:

FEDERAL UPDATE

RPM Act: The Recognizing the Protection of Motor-sports Act (RPM Act) was reintroduced in the 117th U.S. Congress. The bipartisan, pro-motorsports, pro-business legislation will clarify that it is legal under the Clean Air Act (CAA) to make emissions-related changes to convert a street vehicle into a dedicated racecar. It will also confirm that it is legal to produce, market and install racing equipment. In 2015, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) issued a draft rule stating that such conversions were illegal, as were products used to make the conversions. The EPA withdrew the draft rule following a huge, SEMA-led public outcry but still stands by this controversial interpretation of the CAA. The legislation (H.R. 3281/S. 2736) is sponsored by Representatives Patrick McHenry (R-NC) and Raul Ruiz (D-CA) and Senators Richard Burr (R-NC) and Jon Tester (D-MT). There has been unprecedented grassroots support for the RPM Act in 2021, as more than 1.5 million letters have been sent to Congress this year supporting the bill.

SEMA Challenges EPA Position on Race Parts: In early 2021, SEMA filed an amicus brief in a lawsuit between the EPA and Gear Box Z Inc. (GBZ) in which the EPA stated that the CAA does not allow a motor vehicle to be converted into a racing vehicle used solely for competition. In its brief, SEMA challenged the EPA's assertion, noting that “the agency's interpretation breaks from the plain language of the CAA, the legislative history, and EPA's regulations and guidance.” The U.S. District Court for Arizona declined to consider the motor vehicle conversion issue raised by SEMA, and GBZ ultimately settled with the EPA over the issue of selling defeat devices for highway vehicles.

Replica Vehicle Law: SEMA worked with Congress to enact a 2015 law allowing low-volume motor vehicle manufacturers to begin selling fully functional, turn-key replica cars that resemble vehicles produced at least 25 years ago—from 1930s roadsters to 1960s muscle cars and more. Each company could produce up to 325 replicas a year for the U.S. market. The program has been on hold until the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) issues a regulation to implement the law. The agency completed the rule in early January 2021, but it was not officially published in the Federal Register before the presidential transition. The rule is now scheduled to be reviewed and published in January 2022.

E15 Ethanol Fuel: SEMA submitted comments opposing a proposed rule by the EPA to modify or remove the current E15 warning label requirement for gasoline that contains 15% ethanol (E15). Ethanol, especially in higher concentrations such as E15, can cause metal corrosion and dissolve certain plastics and rubbers in older automobiles that were not constructed with ethanol-resistant materials and certain specialty high-performance equipment installed on newer vehicles. The EPA's proposed new label at the gas pump would weaken the warning message and be smaller in size. SEMA argued that these changes would increase the likelihood of E15 gasoline being used in incompatible vehicles. In a separate action, a federal appeals court found that the EPA had overstepped its authority by issuing a 2019 rule allowing gasoline with up to 15% ethanol to be sold year-round. The court ruling reimposes a summertime restriction for certain E15 sales due to fuel-volatility concerns that higher blends of ethanol combined with warmer temperatures may lead to increased smog.

Recreational Trails Program: The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) released a study which concludes that the Recreational Trails Program (RTP) should be receiving nearly $300 million annually rather than the $84 million currently allocated from its portion of federal gas tax receipts. The amount is based on an analysis of fuel used for non-highway recreation from the 18.4-cents-a-gallon federal taxes collected at the pump. RTP funds are used to construct and maintain trails for all types of activities, including motorized, non-motorized and mixed-use trails (off-roading, snowmobiling, hiking, biking, cross-country skiing, etc.). SEMA is urging Congress to enact legislation to increase the RTP funding to the FHWA study estimates.

National Monument Boundaries: President Biden has directed the U.S. Department of the Interior to reconsider the size of Grand Staircase-Escalante and Bears Ears National Monuments, which were reduced under the previous administration. A decision is pending.

20-YEAR HISTORY OF THE SEMA ACTION NETWORK

Est. 1997

The SEMA Action Network (SAN) was formed in 1997 to unite vehicle clubs, enthusiasts and members of the specialty auto parts industry as a political voice for the hobby. SAN efforts have resulted in positive outcomes on a wide range of issues, from vehicle scrappage laws to equipment standards, registration classifications, emissions-test exemptions and hobbyist rights.

AUTO ENTHUSIAST'S HOLIDAY

National Collector Vehicle Appreciation Day: The 12th annual Collector Car Appreciation Day (CCAD) took place on Friday, July 9, 2021. Both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives introduced resolutions (H. Res. 491/S. Res. 292) to focus attention on the vital role automotive restoration and collection plays in American society. Each resolution was sponsored by co-chairs of the SAN-supported Congressional Automotive Performance and Motorsports Caucus. Thousands of Americans gathered at car shows, cruise-ins, and other events to celebrate the nation's automotive heritage. This year's celebration is set for July 8, 2022.

Pat Krause's '32 Ford Five Window Coupe

Pat Krause is the real deal. He is a life-long rodder hailing from Harford County Maryland, and has been building cars for half a century. Pat lived the golden era of hotrodding and cruised in a cool custom Olds Rocket, a member of the Golden Gears Car Club. The walls of Pat's three-bay garage tell stories of those good ole days, with guys who are no longer with us, like Dave Strickler and the 'Ole Reliable 409 Chevy, ("fast" by Grumpy Jenkins) and "Roadster Jack" Colson. He still has a love for Oldsmobile, and his black '50 coupe is seen often at the Lowes Cruise in Abington. He also has a '49 Olds Convertible, a 57 Fairlane drop top, and a '71 Nova.

His latest project is strickly old school, on a very familiar platform - the '32 Ford 5-Window Coupe. He says it's in great shape because it's been a hotrod all of it's life, using several powerplants along the way. It's authentic and period-perfect right down to the bias-ply whitewall Firestone slicks and a 265 chevy small block. Pat says this is his last build, but I wouldn't count on it—he's too much of a car guy.

Getting to The POINT

with Frank Brusque

The purpose of this column was to entertain and discuss serious matters, as they relate to the car hobby at least, with some humor added. The publisher had been gently advising me that controversial subject matter should be avoided. I think the way he put it was something like: "Write about car stuff or you're fired."

He was referring to making fun of the EPA- approved gas can in the last issue, and suggesting their intent was out of concern for global warming, (which is what happens in April), but it's called climate change now, because most people have noticed that it's not doing what they originally said it's doing. See? One run-on sentence, and I'm already controversial.

Renewable Energy sounds great, and was originally well-intended. Tons of money has been spent on the effort, but after decades of development, all forms of alternative combined makes a very small contribution to energy needs of the world. The sun isn't always shining, the wind doesn't always blow, and it costs too much. It's a really big planet, we are very small, and oil has been coming out of the ground since 1859. We don't really know for sure how much or for how long, but forget about it – we're addicted. The "experts" said that "peak oil" was reached in the 1970s, when I was a kid. The Jetsons were on TV and everything in the future was going to be powered by a nuclear reactor or Dilithium Crystals, and we wouldn't need oil. Then, in 1979, Jane Fonda starred in "The China Syndrome" and nuclear was over. The Crystals were never discovered.

Good, bad, right or wrong, what we do know for sure is that OIL RUNS EVERYTHING. I'm just sayin'- Everything is made from it. Plastic, paint, toothpaste, the car, the road, your food, the package it came in, the can you threw the package in, you name it. A cup of oil has more uses, and bang for the buck than all energy sources we know of. Second place isn't even close. It is, for all practical purposes, indistinguishable from Magic. So is the world we built with it. And we're not going back now... I probably watch too much History Channel.

If there is one reason why the "Green" movement is of concern for car enthusiasts, it is in fact an anti-oil movement, and is based on one conclusion: We must stop burning Oil and Coal, and Act 1 is: The Internal Combustion Engine Must Go – all of them – if we are to survive. And they are serious-religious; militant, even. It's not a theory anymore for them. You are never going to talk them out of it, no matter what studies are done. And it's a much, much bigger scheme than the silly gas can vapor-proof spout. It's the perfect excuse for a huge power-grab.

The mobility The Car affords is symbolic of the freedom Americans enjoy, and that has been true from the dawn of the automobile era. It seems easy to take for granted just how great it was – and still is – to get into your rod, fire it up, flip on the radio and the A/C and hammer up the road, wherever you want to go, man. As long as there's a gas station where you're going. (See facing page)

But, I fear, that kind of freedom may change if we don't learn what people in positions of power

"Only two things are infinite;
the universe and human stupidity."

Albert Einstein

The Wind Turbine is Exhibit A of this kind of thinking, a Pollyanish idea whose failure the Smart People cannot accept and are throwing good money after bad at. What may have worked in Holland in 1790 is nowhere near what is required in terms of today's energy needs, even without the cars. They are super-expensive to build and erect, and some have motors that turn them when the wind's not blowing. Nobody wants it in their neighbourhood because they're big – really big. And ugly. Like War of the Worlds. Then there's that "Killing the Eagles" debacle, not very "Green" at all.

A recent news story featured a Swedish 'windfarm' that had experienced unusually freezing cold weather. Craig Kelly on "What's up With That?" writes "The entire rationale for wind turbines was to stop global warming by reducing the amount of CO2 being returned to the atmosphere from the burning of fossil fuels. The cold had caused the rotor blades of the turbine to freeze, bringing the blades to a complete stop. To fix the "problem," a helicopter was employed to spray hot water (which is heated in the frigid temperatures using a truck equipped with a 260 kilowatt oil burner) on the blades of the turbine to de-ice them. The aviation fuel, the diesel for the truck, and the oil burned to heat the water, could likely produce more electricity than an unfrozen wind turbine could produce in the same amount of time."

And that's not counting the CO2 released from the fuel used. Now that's irony. The picture is a metaphor of the complete insanity of the climate change debate. Perhaps in the future, however it turns out, this photo may sum up an era of stupidity, when rational thought, logic and commonsense was abandoned and immense wealth and resources needlessly sacrificed, in the pursuit of power.

It's up to us to get involved, support your local Classic Car Club, and help responsible organizations like SEMA and the CCCEF, so that DMV letter telling you can no longer drive your car never comes. ■

Bob Davis

When I walked into Bob's garage, I thought to myself, I'll bet his poor wife never sees him!

One of the first things you notice when you enter, is what seemed to be a fully equipped kitchen and a dining area right out of a 50's diner. The air was filled with the scent of Pop Corn from the popping machine. The custom bathroom would be fine for most homes. Most walls around the garage were lined with a bunch of interesting memorabilia. After raising three boys, the man lucked out when the garage was built, as he has a plumber, an electrician, and a carpenter for children.

Looking around, I could tell the shop had everything to handle any mechanical needs. There were two engines sitting in the corner in the process of being rebuilt, and Bob's grandson's '77 Camaro was on the lift. It is so great that he is passing down a lifetime of knowledge to a younger generation. I'm a few years younger than Bob, and when Bill Ross and him started talking about the glory days of drag racing, I learned some great tips on how they got on the winning side of the track back in the day! Bob's favorite ride through the years was a '53 Mercury with a 392 Hemi in it.
